INTRODUCTION

The design field requires imaginative and innovative qualities, which my staff and I are prepared to offer.

We are proud to have established a reputation within the industry as a talented, imaginative firm and equally as important, we provide urgency, personal attention and cost efficiency to each and every project.

The experience and background I personally offer is wide ranged. I started my career in 1963 while attending college, with Weber Showcase and Store Fixture Co. I later joined the Albert Parvin Co. (Parvin/Dohrmann), where I was assistant to the design director. I was responsible for many projects during my eight years with the company, including Hotel and Casino projects in Las Vegas, Nevada.

In 1971 I formed National Associated Design Company, a subsidiary of Associated Hosts Inc., a publicly held corporation. During my twelve year affiliation at Associated Hosts Inc., I held the position of an officer and Vice President in charge of Architecture, Design and Construction. Providing such services as development, complete design concepts, interior design, site selection, kitchen design, graphic design, construction management, and the selection and purchasing of all furniture, fixtures and equipment for the restaurant, bar, kitchen and hotel facilities.

Prior to my resignation as Vice President with Associated Hosts, I accomplished a most successful concept, the "Bombay Bicycle Club Cafe and Bar." This concept has proven successful throughout the United States for Associated Hosts.

I have taken the liberty of enclosing a list of projects my firm and I have previously completed. If interested, and upon your request, a list of references will be forwarded to you.

I look forward to hearing from you so we may plan a meeting to establish how my firm can help you with your project.

COMPANY PROFILE

"DESIGN DEVELOPMENT WARMS CLIENT'S INTERIORS AND RAISES THE BOTTOM LINE"

Since its formation in 1983, Design Development Company has grown into one of the top creative interior design companies in the country representing major national and international corporations.

Founded by Ron Lieberman and based in Agoura Hills, California, the full service design firm achieved its steady growth and unique identity in the industry by giving its clients a comprehensive package of services to insure the project's success.

From conceptual development to finished product, the company's personal involvement extends to every phase of the project down to the smallest details including selection, purchasing and installation of fixtures, fabrics, furniture and equipment, even designing and creating the restaurant's menu and graphics package.

The firm also does a thorough examination of the customer base before ever taking on an assignment.

"It's the first question we ask," says Lieberman. "Who's the customer and what experience do we perceive him to want to have? It's our number one consideration."

Whether it's a family dining experience at a Mimis Cafe, or an opulent experience in San Francisco's richly decorated Grand Cafe or Ponzu, the customer is king, insists Lieberman.

"That's what gives us our creative direction. The more we know about the customer, the more we're able to satisfy his needs and create an environment that exceeds his expectations. It makes it profitable for the restaurant and keeps our clients happy."

Kimpton Hotel and Restaurant Group is one of Design Development's biggest and happiest clients. The San Francisco based hotel and restaurant builder has commissioned the design firm to create over two dozen major projects since 1989 including the Grand Cafe located in the heart of San Francisco's theater district, Bambara in Salt Lake City and Bleu in New Orleans.

The Grand Cafe occupies 8,000 square feet in the renovated ballroom of a 1910 landmark hotel and is a lavish expression of French turn-of-the-century realism with massive 30 foot columns, huge 40 foot wall murals, custom crafted chandeliers and plush brown velvet booths framed in finished walnut to create an imposing, ingratiating environment reflecting San Francisco's elite, sophisticated tastes.

While new restaurant design comprises a significant part of Design Development's business, the company specializes in renovations, remodeling, and conversions and has an impressive track record in turning clients sales around.

The Elephant Bar tapped Design Development to reinvent their sophisticated safari concept and provide a prototype for their fast track development plans. As a result of the design enhancements, Elephant Bar has become a premier player in the restaurant world with recent developments in Northern California; Fremont, Concord and Burlingame as well as Southern California, Burbank, Irvine and Valencia.

Dick Clark's American Bandstand Grill is another restaurant that was started from scratch, the firm redesigned the original restaurant in Miami to reflect a contemporary look with dazzling exterior neon lighting highlighting the celebrity's well-known name and warm, embracing interiors emphasizing a homey, family feeling.

The conversion was so successful that it became the prototype restaurant for five new American Bandstand Grills that have since opened in Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Reno, Columbus, Ohio and Philadelphia.

"We don't redecorate to make a restaurant pretty," notes Lieberman. "We re-conceptualize to reflect the changing demographics of the area. The restaurant industry is always in a constant state of flux."

Design Development has created many specialty restaurant projects for Bob Puccini of Bob Puccini Consulting Design and Development out of San Francisco, including Oritalia, a unique blend of Oriental and Italian design and cuisine. The restaurant expanded to include locations in Portland and Vancouver, BC.

With a well-respected reputation for creating cost-efficient projects with a functional and aesthetic use of space, Design Development has consistently been named by Interior Design magazine as one of the top 100 restaurant and hotel design giants in the industry for the past ten years and currently ranks 18th on that list.

Says Lieberman, "Our goal is to continue that climb by applying the same methodology that has made us successful - creating environments that exceed the customer's expectations."

RON LIEBERMAN

President / CEO

A man passionately involved with his projects, a leader of innovative restaurant and hotel design, Ron Lieberman has completed hundreds of projects for national and international corporations that have earned him a reputation as one of the top interior designers in the country.

With over 35 years experience in the business and an impressive track record for creating cost efficient, high profile projects on time and on budget, Lieberman's well respected status in the industry is unique. Ron was raised in Los Angeles and while attending the Chanard Art Institute, where he studied color and design, he broadened his skills and talent producing retail designs at Weber Showcase. He began his hospitality design career working for the Albert Parvin Company, one of the best known interior design firms of its day and Yates-Silverman, where he accumulated experience designing and developing major hotels and casinos in Las Vegas.

In 1971 he joined Associated Hosts, Inc. as Vice President in charge of architecture, design and construction. During his 12-year affiliation with the publicly-held company, he conceived and implemented a number of innovative ventures including the highly successful Bombay Bicycle Club Cafe and Bar which led to that company's increased profitability.

With an intimate knowledge of the restaurant industry, Lieberman formed Design Development Co. in 1983, specializing in new restaurant concept design, renovations, remodeling and conversions and most recently has expanded into the healthcare industry designing senior care facilities, skilled nursing centers and convalescent hospitals.

Combining his design strengths with strong managerial capabilities, Lieberman's firm has tripled in size since its inception and is ranked 11th in the top 100 interior hotel and restaurant design companies in the country according to Interior Design magazine.

"We feel the pulse of the public, knowing how important it is to meet or exceed their expectations," says Lieberman. With several high profile projects, such as the Hard Rock Cafe, Design Development has tapped into an escalating trend in the restaurant industry, themed restaurants, using visual excitement and whimsical design but without losing sight of their goal. "We create an exciting yet comfortable atmosphere where people can meet to eat, socialize and enjoy their surroundings," says Lieberman.

DAVID LIEBERMAN

Vice President / Creative Director

As Vice President and Creative Director of Design Development Co., David Lieberman has played an integral role in the firm's success and steady growth by introducing "THE WOW FACTOR" as he calls it. The ability to create environments that exceed the client's and the customer's expectations. "It's the only way we know of how to insure long term relationships with our clients. We talk to the client about his needs, wants and feelings, and then interpret that thought process into the design."

Born in Encino, California, the 31 year-old designer won a city-wide design competition in high school where he excelled in art, architecture and design. After graduation from college with a BA in Interior Architecture from Cal State Long Beach, one of the nation's top five schools in interior architectural design, David interned at the prestigious Sheer/Braden Architects in Los Angeles before joining Design Development Co. in 1989.

David took charge of the client relationships and coordination of all departments, including conceptual development, presentation and implementation of all projects. During his 16 year association with the firm, his design and conceptual skills, his ability to translate the client's feelings into a workable design and the creative freedom have all given David the opportunity to experiment with new conceptual ideas, materials and colors.

With his natural ability to turn one dimensional floorplans into vibrant three dimensional drawings, David articulates and defines the client's vision to create unusual one of a kind projects. The company now has carved itself a niche as one of the nation's leading design firms, while the company specializes in hotel and restaurant design, it also has been called to beautify convalescent homes and hospitals.
